Dear Marc:

Your letter of 27 September to the DDCI has been referred to the Office of Training for response.

It sounds as though your consulting work and lecturing in the field of cross-cultural communications are becoming widely known and well received--as they should be.

As you know, our requirements in the field continue about the same level as when you retired and for the present are being met by our own staff. Needless to say, we will call on you if the need arises.

You have obviously been busy and productive since your retirement and have enhanced your professional reputation in this important field.

Best personal wishes,

25X1A

Deputy Director of Training
